

Patrick Heron

Patrick Heron is a British painter who lived in St Ives in Cornwall and was part of the St Ives School of painters. He began his career painting naturalistic still life and landscapes and later became more abstract. He is known for making his work look transparent by using continuous line and overlapping lines

Still Life

Still life is a painting or drawing of an arrangement of objects

Continuous line

Key Vocabulary
Composition	The arrangement or organisation of objects in a work of art
Contour	A line drawing showing the outline of an object
Continuous line	An unbroken single line drawing
Abstract art	Uses shape, form, colour and line to create a composition without a subject
Naturalistic/ Figurative	Real objects
Subject	The objects you are drawing

Naturalistic

Abstract

Useful websites

<https://www.tate.org.uk/art/artist/s/patrick-hearn-1278>